of the Fourth ward police, that the leather store of Wm. B. Chammeyer, No. 07 Gold street had been burglariously entered, and the property in question taken from the premises. The burglary had been effected by breaking open the rear, outer door with a jimmy. The prisoners were brought before Justice Onborns, at the Mayor's office, yes erisky morning, when they were committed for examination—Taylor on charge of burglary, and the brothers Levey on charge of receiving stolen goods.

CHARGE OF EMBREZIEMENT.

CHARGE OF EMBEZZLEMENT. George W. Gibbons was taken into custody on charge of having embezzled $169 from his employer, Captain Hopkins. of the pilot boat Thomas H. Smith. The accused it is alleged, was instructed to collect some moneys due the complainant, and in the performance of this task appropriated as it is charged the money thus collected. Sibbons was held for examination on the above charge.

CHARGE OF PALSE PRETENCES. Jehiel Clark was brought before Justice Welsh, at the swer Police Court, on charge of cheating Henry C. Guion, of No. 41 John street, out of $15, by means of false pre-tences. The complainant states that be gave defendant the sum in question on his representing to him that he had a check for $75 on the shoe and Leather Dealers' Bark, and would pay complainant back the sum loaned as soon as he could get it cashed. All this defendant failed to do, hence his arrest. The accused was held for examination.

Coroners' Inquests.

THE LATE RAILROAD ACCIDENT ON THE EIGHTH AVENUE AMEROAD.—Coroner Connery held an inquest at the New York Hospital upon the body of a child named Annie Watson, who was run over and killed on the Eighth Avenue Railroad a few days ago. The jury in this case, af ter due deliberation, rendered a verdist of "Death by being run over by car No. 10 on the Eighth Avenue Rail reac; that the driver of said car used all reasonable care and dligence; that he was not driving beyond an ordinary rate of speed, and that as son as he was aware of the proximity of the child he used every exertion to stop the ear, and dod so before the car had entirely passed over her body." Upon the renaition of the verdist tae Coroner discharged the driver from custody. In this cases two juries were empanelled. In the case of the first body no agreement could be obtained, so the Coroner was obliged to discharge them. The second jury found the verdist given above. nue Railroad a few days ago. The jury in this case, af

The Screw Steamer Edinburg.

The Screw Steamer Edinburg.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HEBALD.
LONDON, Feb. 28, 1856.

I big to draw your attention to what I conceive to be a shaueful imposition on the public.

I left New York in the screw steamer Edinburg, for Glasgow, on her last trip. Remarking to the agent, on going on board, that there was no fire in the steamer's cabin, he said that as soon as the ship passed Sandy Hook all would be right; but as the result showed, we had no fire until the 5th. The thermometer stood all this time fitteen degrees below the freezing point in the berths. It was only after the most energetic remonstrances on my part, and on that of other passengers, that the Captain was induced to put up a tiny stove, no bigger than my hand, in the saloon. I believe that the Captain did sall in his power, but the directors in Glasgow are very penurious, and he stands much in awe of them. Had I suspected what privations we should have had to undergo, I would never have crossed in this wessel. My family suffered severely from cold; the baby (en) four weeks old) nearly died of it—its cicthes could not be taken off for three days. not be taken off for three days.
